PROFESSIONAL SUMMARY:

I'm a strategic creative leader focused on Brand & Experience Strategy, Integrated Marketing, UX & Visual Design, and Web 2/3. I'm hands-on with experience from both agency service and brand product side – which is a rare and valuable combination.

I'm a skilled manager and team leader with the ability to roll-up-my-sleeves, define, manage, and work within small and large budgets, drive the creative agenda at a strategic level, and deliver compelling propositions to the business. I ensure the team is at the forefront of innovative thinking when it comes to designing outstanding features, championing developments, inspiring new ideas across every aspect of the business, from experiences to developing end-to-end brand new engagements for a new generation of consumers and bringing the big idea to a new dimension and best-in-class user experience.

My wish is to combine my knowledge and expertise of consuming and creating memorable experiences to a startup company, major cross-media organization, or advertising firm in need of user experience and creative leadership.

PROFESSIONAL HISTORY:

Consulting

Creative Design Leadership for Brand & UX Strategy, Intergrated Marketing, Visual Design, & Web2/3
January 2014 – Present

I championed and managed end-to-end UX strategy, creative leadership, and design direction, to the following clients and agencies: Credit Suisse, Consumer Reports, DeepFocus, SunTrust, Juice Generation, Nespresso, Nesquik, Infusion, Strawberry Frog, and Merlin Entertainments.

Sotheby's

AVP Creative Director for Digital Services March 2011 – January 2014

During my time at Sotheby's, I provided creative leadership, strategy, UX/UI direction, hiring, time scheduling, budgets, and design direction for Sotheby's digital services including environments, mobile, tablets, and web platforms.

I built and led the team devoted to re-imagining the catalogue greatness for delivery on the iPad which now publishes close to 400 global catalogues per year.

Sothebys.com, BIDNOW—Live Online Bidding, and Preferred—Loyalty Program needed to be accessible on any device especially mobile. I spearheaded the user experience strategy, creative, design, and managed the team to a best-in-class experience.

Sotheby's value and expertise in the art marketplace wasn't clear or top-of-mind so I led strategy, creative, and digital design direction for a 360 branding campaign that led to successful sales year over Christie's.

Digitas

Creative Director October 2009 – October 2010

As Creative Director at Digitas I managed creative teams, strategy, time scheduling, budgets, hiring and design direction. UX/UI direction, social strategy, for American Express's brands, specifically ZYNC, AE Delta, Open, and Daily Wish.

Consulting

Creative Strategy, UX, and Design Direction September 2008 – 2009

I provided creative and design direction, and UX strategy to the following clients: CableVision, HBO and Noir Fashion.

Nintendo of America

Creative Director September 2007 – September 2008

I spearheaded the creative leadership and design direction to Nintendo's Direct Consumer Communications group as well as advising current brands within Nintendo's portfolio of gaming products. Led creative and UX strategy and design direction for new digital initiatives including the Wii Fit, I Play for Me, Mario Kart, Professor Layton and the Curious Village and various expanded audience marketing campaigns
